Reorganization of School Setup Approved Despite Protests from Seven Groups.

Special to The Star
KENTON, March 26—Disregarding petitioned protests of seven school districts, the board of education of Hardin county today had passed a resolution formally approving an eight-district reorganization program without changing any of the proposed redistricting lines. The resolution, a map of the district outlines, a transcript of proceedings and the petitions were to be sent to the state department of education later this week for final approval in conformity with provisions of the foundation school bill.

Action of the county board came Wednesday after violent protests were aired Tuesday night in a public hearing.

Petitions bearing signatures of approximately 65 per cent of the voters in Dudley, Jackson, McGuffey and Taylor Creek school districts requested the county board to leave those districts intact under the present rural setup. Petitions carrying as many signatures of voters in Buck, Goshen and Pleasant districts sought retention of present lines and entrance of the entire district into the proposed eighth district surrounding Kenton, under the reorganization program. All were ignored in the final decision.

The resolution passed yesterday by county educators does not authorize the transfer of territory or establishment of new districts but paves the way for that action by the state department of education. Local objections to the redistricting will be heard by the state department before the program is finally adopted, it was said.

BROKER MARGIN LIMITATION SET

Banks and Operators Can Loan 45 Per Cent on Stocks, Board Rules.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 26—A 55 per cent minimum margin for purchases of stocks through either banks or brokers was prescribed today by the federal reserve board to become effective May 1.

This was done in conformity with the securities exchange act to make uniform the credit values of securities as handled by banks and brokers. It was explained that the board's quarters of all trading through brokers at present no margin would result.

In the past, margins on securities bought through brokers have been varied optionally by a complicated formula dependent upon past prices of the issue purchased. The new regulation served to simplify the procedure.

At the same time the board issued regulations covering the activities of the new federal open market committee, which is given authority to determine the amounts of government securities bought and sold by the federal reserve banks.

The reserve board quarters it was said that the new regulations on margins were not issued through present fear of any imminent inflationary boom. They had been under consideration and discussion for a year, it was said, and had reached completion.

The margin regulations were made to apply only to listed securities on registered stock exchanges, but having no effect upon the over-the-counter market, but of course applying to all transactions on the great New York stock exchange. An explanatory statement issued at the same time said:

"The regulation is not retroactive. It does not restrict the right of a bank to extend credit, whether on securities or otherwise, for any commercial, agricultural, or industrial purpose, or for any other purpose except the purchasing or carrying of stocks registered on a national securities exchange."

"The regulation does not prevent a bank from taking for any loan collateral in addition to that required by the regulation, nor does it require a bank to reduce any margin in obtaining additional collateral for any outstanding loan, or to call in outstanding loans because of insufficient collateral."

Arrangements Moving Ahead for Exposition

Opening of Housing Show Less Than Two Weeks Away; Hope To Make It Marion's Best.

With the start of the Marion Merchandising and Modern Home Exposition, less than two weeks away, plans are going ahead rapidly to make the show the most elaborate and extensive ever held here. W. D. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today. The Chamber is sponsoring the exposition, which will be held four days beginning April 7 at 295 West Center street.

A committee of local merchants has been named to assist and advise the Chamber on arrangements from a trade promotion standpoint. Those in charge of the event said they are counting on advice from these men, most of whom have had experience in past merchandising exhibits. Those on the committee are F. M. Brabson, chairman, A. L. Rintz, Arthur A. Van Atta, Millard Hunt, W. J. Gorton, G. A. Howland, Harry F. Margwarth and Harold Carroll.

The display equipment and exhibitors' booths rented by the sponsors from a large exposition company will arrive in the city next week. Crews of men will be immediately assigned to clean the two-story building formerly occupied by Haberman Chevrolet Co., which will house the show, and the equipment and booth will be set up. The booths will be ready for the exhibitors' displays not later than Monday, April 6. They are attractively designed and colorfully decorated, which will give uniformity to the exhibits. The show equipment is complete in every detail and is the most elaborate ever devised for exposition use.

Mr. Brown said. Included will be an extensive sound and amplifying system that will enable every person in the building to hear the musical and stage entertainment that will be a feature of the show.

The entertainment will include six standard big time vaudeville acts. In one section of the building a large and completely equipped stage will be set up for the presentation.

Advertising and publicity matter was being distributed today throughout nearby counties. Window cards and outdoor country signs were posted in the city and county early this week. Many automobiles will bear cards on their bumpers carrying the announcement of the show to cities throughout the Marion trading area. The week of the exposition 50-foot street pennants will hang from power and light poles in the city.

A tornado that skipped through south central Missouri killed four persons and caused damage in a half dozen towns. Bert Snell, 21, was killed when his house collapsed at Nangua, Mo., while he was at work on the roof. Wreckage of the building is shown above. (Associated Press Photo)

Happy Relief From Painful Backache

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't let it lay you up.

Ask your druggist for Don's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Don's Pills.

Variety of Egg Recipes Presented by Mrs. Thurn

Dear Friends in Marion: It is again eggs are plentiful. What a joy for eggs add goodness to any dish whether a cake, pudding, sauce, cookie or as a complete dish in itself, an omelet or soufflé. Throughout the winter months we have needed foods for heat but now we want food for energy and growth.

When properly cooked few foods are as easily digested or nutritious as eggs and they are also rich sources of the health giving vitamins. Do not attempt to cook eggs hurriedly. Cook them always at the lowest possible temperature, the simmering point or 185 degrees. Eggs are protein and protein toughens under intense heat. Eggs that are boiled are tough and tasteless whereas an egg cooked slowly for 15 minutes will be firm, delicate and digestible.

The French scramble their eggs in a double boiler. You will be delighted with the results once you have adopted the method used by our foreign sisters.

Around the main dish we can build a menu and today I would suggest egg dishes in combination with the fresh vegetables that are now in the market, or soon will be. Also I would give you a cake as yellow as the spring time herald—the soufflé.

Cheese Soufflé
One cup white sauce; one cup grated American cheese; three eggs; one teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon cayenne pepper and one teaspoon baking powder.
Add grated cheese, salt and pepper to the hot, freshly made white sauce. Allow to cool while beating egg whites stiff but not dry. Add slightly beaten egg yolks and baking powder to cheese mixture. Very carefully fold in the egg whites. Bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees F. for 25 to 40 minutes. Test by inserting a knife in the center. If the knife comes out clean, the soufflé is done; if the mixture sticks, cook for 5 to 10 minutes longer. Serve at once as soufflés. Like omelets, must be eaten at once.

Jonniqui Cake
One half cup shortening; one cup granulated sugar; one half cup milk; two cups flour; two teaspoons baking powder; one half teaspoon salt; eight egg yolks; grated rind of one orange.
Blend well the shortening and sugar. Sift the flour once. Sift again with the salt and baking powder. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add to shortening, sugar mixture. Add grated rind of orange. Add flour alternately with milk. When all flour has been added, beat thoroughly again. Bake in two well greased 9 inch pans in a moderate oven of 350 degrees. Frost with a white icing flavored with fresh orange juice.

Puffy Omelet
Five eggs; five tablespoons milk; three fourths teaspoon salt; one fourth teaspoon pepper.
Separate eggs and whip the whites until stiff. Beat the yolks until thick and creamy. Add salt and pepper to egg yolks and milk. Fold in egg whites gently. Add a tablespoon of shortening to the frying pan and heat gently. Pour in mixture and cook slowly on top of stove or in the oven. When solid, cut down through center, fold over and serve at once on a hot platter. Garnish with broiled tomatoes, or serve with a mushroom sauce.

Stuffed Eggs Anchovy
Four hard cooked eggs; one tablespoon anchovy paste; four slices of tomato; one tablespoon mayonnaise.

Remove yolks from hard-cooked eggs. Mix with anchovy paste and salad dressing. Fill cavity of eggs with mixture. Cut off the end of each egg so they will stand firmly; place on tomato and garnish with parsley. Serve very cold as an appetizer or as a salad.

Cocoa Cake
One half cup shortening; one cup sugar; three eggs; three fourths cup of milk; six tablespoons cocoa; one and three fourths cups flour; one teaspoon vanilla; two teaspoons baking powder; and one half teaspoon salt.
Cream the shortening and sugar. Add eggs one at a time and beat vigorously after each addition. Sift together the flour, salt, cocoa, and baking powder. Add flour and milk alternately to the egg shortening mixture. Bake in a loaf pan for 30 to 40 minutes at 325 degrees. Cover with a plain icing.

Orange Sponge Cake
Four eggs; one and one half cups flour; one and one fourth cups granulated sugar; one tablespoon cold water; one eighth teaspoon salt; two teaspoons baking powder; one half cup orange juice.
Separate eggs, add one tablespoon cold water to yolks and beat until very light and lemon colored. Add sugar and salt gradually and beat well. Add alternately flour and orange juice. Fold in egg whites. Bake in a 325 degree oven for an hour or until a knife inserted will come out clean.

RECIPE REQUESTS ANSWERED HERE

Egg Yolk Cookies
Blend well three-fourths cup of sugar with one cup of shortening. Add three egg yolks, one teaspoon flavoring and three cups of flour. Mix well and roll out on a floured board. Cut into fancy shapes, brush over with milk, sprinkle with granulated sugar and bake in a 375 degree F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes. This makes four to five dozen cookies.

Noodle Ring
Boil in salted water until tender one package of noodles. Drain and run cold water over them. Beat well three egg yolks and add to the noodles with one tablespoon of melted butter, one-eighth teaspoon of paprika. Fold in the three stiffly beaten egg whites and bake in a well greased ring mold, set in boiling water, in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. Turn out carefully and fill center with creamed chicken, fish, sautéed mushrooms, or any vegetable. Serves six or eight.

March Salad
Toss together one and one-half cups of cottage cheese, one-fourth cup of finely chopped celery, one cup of cooked prunes cut into strips, one-half teaspoon of salt and a dash of paprika.
Use a salad fork to mix ingredients. Serve on shredded lettuce and garnish with mayonnaise and a radish rose.

Sausage Cakes
Shape pork sausage meat into rounds about two inches in diameter and one-fourth inch thick. Cook in a frying pan until well done or bake in the oven. Sausage cakes served on slices of pineapple are tasty. The sausage cakes may be baked on the pineapple slices if desired.

Grapefruit Marmalade
Shave two clean whole grapefruit very thin, rejecting nothing but the seeds and cores. Measure the fruit, and add three times the quantity of water, and let it stand in a earthenware dish over night. Then boil for 10 minutes, and let it stand another night. Then add an equal quantity of sugar, and boil briskly until the mixture jells.

Quick Sally Lunn
Two eggs; three-fourths cup of milk; two and one-half cups of flour; three tablespoons shortening; two tablespoons sugar; one teaspoon of salt and four teaspoons baking powder.
Beat eggs together until very light, add sugar, mix as in making a cake, having baking powder and salt sifted with flour. Add melted shortening last. Drop in hot greased muffin tins, or bake in round layer pans. Cut in pie shape sections, serve hot with butter. Bake in a 450 degree oven.

Springtime Salad
Two cups cottage cheese; one and one-half tablespoons French dressing; one tablespoon pickle relish; one tablespoon minced pimiento; one tablespoon chopped nut meats; mayonnaise.
Combine the cheese, mayonnaise, pickle, pimientos, and nut meats. Pack into individual molds or small coffee cups that have been wet with cold water. When chilled unmold and serve individually with a garnish of pickles or herbs. This salad may be served on a slice of tomato if desired.

Domestic Difficulties.

The League of Nations council has met and quit, admitting its inability to settle the Rhineland dispute and calling for further negotiations into the underground channels of secret diplomacy. This development leaves Chancellor Hitler in undisturbed possession of the reoccupied Rhineland territory and adds weight to expectation of a greater crisis to come.

An Javalien and Pravda, Russian newspapers see the situation Germany re-occupied the Rhineland as a first step toward war. The threat of economic collapse it is feared, may drive the Nazis to continue their martial course in the near future in a mad effort to save their regime. To bolster the characteristic view of the antagonistic Nazi Pravda investigates German reemployment figures and discovers that most reemployment has been in war industries. Furthermore lack of a gold reserve according to the Russian point of view is hastening Germany toward a financial crisis.

Plausibility of the Russian thesis that Germany's dictatorial government is being forced by internal pressure to pre-empt war increases when it is recalled how stories of domestic unrest leaked through the walls of Italian censorship before Premier Mussolini started to carve out history on the Ethiopian hillside. Many reliable observers asserted that if Duce embarked upon the African adventure as a grand gesture a dramatic renaissance in his domestic countrymen that Italy's destiny would be fulfilled if he were permitted to do the leading Adolf Hitler may not be unlike his Italian fascist model in knowing there is a time to get the minds of the populace off domestic affairs.

Whether or not distraction was his intent in ordering military reoccupation of the Rhineland it has been the result Germany has plenty to think about these days—strong alliances formed against it—possible economic sanctions and more serious than anything else, war itself. Preservation of Hitlerism may just be an exceedingly costly business.

Day to Day.

Friendly but not formally indorsed, Dr. Francis E. Townsend's latest explanation of his feeling toward Sen. Borah as a presidential candidate last Monday it had been reported that Dr. Townsend had indorsed the Idaho senator as the favorite son of Old Age Revolving Pensioners.

The difference between friendship and a formal indorsement in this particular case is not great however. It is obvious that Dr. Townsend is looking for almost anyone to carry the OARP banner until someone better turns up. Sen. Borah will have to do. He has been friendliest of all the candidates for the nomination.

In case the senator does not get the Republican nomination and in case the Republican party does not prove itself any more enthusiastic about Townsend's plan than the Democratic party, a third party composed entirely of Townsendites will be formed. That is Dr. Townsend's plan at the moment at least. At one time a third party was his first choice.

Further day to day developments of his political strategy will be followed with some interest. It is apparent on the face of things that Dr. Townsend's genius does not lie in the political field. He has changed his mind so often he is beginning to present the appearance of a man playing an intricate game he doesn't understand—and playing it furthermore with professionalisms.

Information Wanted.

Commenting on a $811,362,604 army supply bill passed by the senate and sent to conference committee, Sen. Clark of Missouri declared: "If we are going into the military business the appropriation is too small and if we are not going into the military business it is too much."

Of the total amount named in the bill $384,669,610 is for strictly military purposes and the rest is for non-military purposes, such as rivers and harbors improvements and flood control. The amount being spent in the current year for military purposes is $351,178,020.

Sen. Clark scarcely could doubt, in view of larger appropriations for both the army and the navy, that certain officials of the government are going into the military business in a small way. Given half a chance, they would go into it in a big way, furthermore.

The thing which prevents them from getting more American young men into uniform and from accumulating a greater mass of fighting equipment than they have been able to get so far is the simple fact that there are no enemies in sight. It is difficult to get prepared for a theoretical war.

When the conference committee goes to work ironing out the army supply bill for next year it should announce for public benefit what nation or nations the United States is getting ready to fight.

Jugglers of the AAA.

The principal aim of the new AAA program is that the antitrust act which it entails isn't going to fool anybody. In a legal sense it is a plan to conserve soil universally conceded to be a worthy objective. In a new deal sense it is a substitute for the unconstitutional agricultural adjustment act as a means of controlling agricultural production. In a third and completely practical sense it is a scheme to pay cash benefits to farmers.

Soil conservation will be effected in a small way. The United States is a huge country but even so it certainly is not too soon to start on its first effort to conserve its natural resources. Soil conservation is a real problem which if left unsolved eventually would undermine the vitality of the nation.

It is doubtful if the new AAA soil conservation program will prove to be an effective means of controlling production. The program is a shift in a makeshift and the officials in charge of it make no secret of their doubts. They of them feel sure that soil conservation at its best will be only a partial deterrent to what the new deal calls excessive agricultural production.

On the score of future aid to farmers however the new plan measures up to expectations. It is an excellent device for transferring money from consumers to agricultural producers. Potentially it is also an effective way to conserve soil.

But control of production the new deal purpose is at best an indeterminate result. It is a very real possibility that the antitrust act which isn't going to fool any body isn't going to work either.

Steps Are Being Taken.

A general belief that a lot of money could be saved and much efficiency gained by a housecleaning of federal departments, bureaus and agencies is shared by taxpayers with influential men in the capital. Among them is President Roosevelt, who ordered a reorganization survey just before starting on his current fishing trip. Previously a senate committee headed by Sen. Byrd of Virginia had undertaken a similar survey.

Steps are being taken. Unfortunately that doesn't mean they are going to lead anywhere. Surveys have been made before and recommendations have been submitted but never to any good effect. Rapid development of the new deal bureaucracy has aggravated what has been a chronic affliction of the federal government for years. It is a question whether or not acute confusion will yield any more readily to remedy than chronic confusion has yielded.

The trouble lies not with intentions which always are good but with the stubborn resistance of jobholders in every suggestion that their number might be reduced. They have made of themselves another of the compact minorities which characterize American government. Attempts to dislodge them meet the same obstacles as do attempts to dislodge pensioners. In a hundred ways they seek to perpetuate themselves and to prevent their removal from the federal payroll.

There is every reason to commend the surveys being made by the administration and the senate to investigate possibilities of reorganizing the federal government. At the same time there is no very good reason to believe that anything will be accomplished until there comes into being in Washington a sincere desire for reorganization.

It's a Great Game.

Politics is a great game, greater than many enthusiastic spectators realize. As in most other games some of the fine points are visible only to players and to a handful of expert watchers.

In presidential politics for instance there is the matter of being from the right state. It isn't accidental that 10 major party candidates since 1904 have been from New York and six from Ohio. Five of the five points of the game New York at present has 47 electoral votes Ohio 26.

It is preferable for a presidential candidate to come from a large state and if possible from a state whose electoral votes are classified in the doubtful column. Theoretically a candidate has about two chances in three of delivering his own state which may be the deciding factor in a close election.

The prospect at present is for a close election next November. It becomes therefore a matter of interest that the state of Kansas home of Alfred M. Landon lead candidate for the Republican nomination is neither large nor doubtful. Kansas has nine electoral votes and almost seems certain to go Republican next November. Sen. Borah's home state Idaho has only four electoral votes and probably could be carried by the senator if he obtained the Republican nomination.

There is consequently the possibility of an anti-Landon coalition and even of an anti-Borah coalition based on the disadvantages both men face in being from small states. It is at present no more than a possibility but in the great game of politics the clever players always are alert to seize possibilities for their own purposes. Apparently the best way to become president of the United States is to be born in a large state which fluctuates between the two major parties. It is not essential but it is undoubtedly an advantageous.

Davis A Rebel in New Deal Ranks

Administration Key Man Insists Citizens' Private Affairs Should Be Respected.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(The Star.) Davis, of the agricultural readjustment administration and one of the key men in the new deal may find himself persona non grata with certain official circles of congress who believe in pitiless as well as pitiful publicity but he has maintained nevertheless the courage of his convictions.

Mr. Davis insists there is such a thing as confidential treatment of the private affairs of a citizen even if it does involve payment by the government to the citizens of certain benefit checks or subsidies.

Or in the securities and exchange commission they have adopted just the opposite view. They feel that everything a corporation pays out in the way of salaries should be made public. In the house ways and means committee also they had that all salaries in excess of $15,000 a year should be held up to public view.

Mr. Davis happens to take the latter view because a movement in the house of representatives led by Mr. Tamm of New York and now a resolution in the senate introduced by Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan would require publication of the names and addresses of all persons who receive in excess of $10,000 a year from the government for AAA benefits.

The Michigan senator says he is in favor of one corn hog contract where the federal subsidy was paid $210,825 in two years for not raising 14,587 hogs. He is in favor of another example of a cotton contract in which $168,000 was paid out for not planting 7,000 acres.

But Mr. Davis in a letter to Chairman Jones of the house agriculture committee says all this is confidential information and should be so treated. He writes: "The adjustment administration is at tempted to protect the interests of individual contract signers by withholding public announcements on individual contract figures. These contracts were an agreement between the secretary of agriculture and the individual contract signer. It has been held that the individual signer was entitled to confidential treatment of the contract information."

It is apparent that unethical use might be made of this contract information if it were made public and fell into the hands of those who might wish to exploit the contract signers commercially or otherwise. What Mr. Davis says is right. The farmers would be put in a bad sort of high pressure selling they would be annoyed by city folk trying to sell them stocks and what not and they would find perhaps unwarranted jealousies created and unfair charges of favoritism here and there in measuring allowances.

Just precisely these arguments were presented without avail to the SEC. Many large businesses offered to tell what salaries were paid to groups of executives or to reveal how many salaries of a given amount were paid so long as it would be possible to withhold the names of the recipients. The contention was that rival organizations could then make higher offers for valuable men and that internal jealousies would be created which would cause damage to the companies.

As for the action of the house ways and means committee in making public a list of salaries paid when the data were taken from the income tax returns the argument made by Mr. Davis about unethical use was interposed then too but without avail. Unethical use has already been made of the salary list. In this case, too the information is given solely to corporations and to the government executive or to those who perform services. Sen. Vandenberg is on the other hand asking for facts about money paid out of the public treasury in the form of benefits to farmers. The one case involves private funds and the other relates to public funds.

In both instances the same principle could be applied. Those who favor revealing in the eyes of snooty extortionists and others all sorts of private data are on one side and those who believe that a citizen's affairs are still private are on the other. It is the standpoint of the latter it might be said if the Vandenberg resolution did pass so that the farmers might have a list of what happens when pitiless publicity is administered to their brethren in industry and business.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO
It was 10 years ago, March 28, 1926, that Mrs. Hattie E. Baker, 83, stepdaughter of the late Baker founder of Marion, died at her home on East Center street.

Although administration officials in Washington said that Italy would pay to the full city under a $2,042,000,000 war debt, it is a fact that just before the state Democratic insurgent alliance was organized for a battle against the machine of the past. Objections of the machine were based upon several counts, the substance of which was that the burden of paying Italy's war debt would be placed upon the American taxpayer instead of on the Italian taxpayer.

Judge J. H. Miller, who had been mentioned as a possible candidate for judge of the Ohio supreme court, was inducted for that office by the Marion County bar association.

John McFarland, who had been operating the first Marion steam shovel, told his friends and said that the new excavating machine revolutionized road work. Mr. McFarland, at the time of the interview, was employed as a foreman of the Knights of Columbus lodge rooms here.

Miss George F. Miller, 83, died at her home on Elm street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, March 28, 1916, that Marion county was swept by a terrific rain and electrical storm which caused rivers and streams to rise rapidly, flooded streets and cellars in the city and lowlands in the outlying districts. The rainfall Sunday and Sunday night totaled 3.5 inches.

Rev. Louis Crooley of Lyons was extended a call of the pastorate of the Marion Universal church. Rev. Mrs. Crooley had been preaching here for a week during special services.

A Scotch collier owned by Peter Dunn, residing on the Ravi and Uncepher pike west of Marion, aroused members of the family at an early morning hour when the barn was on fire. As a result Mr. Dunn reached the barn in time to rescue seven horses, 15 head of cattle and 27 hogs. All the stock that was in the building was destroyed.

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, March 28.—The new deal agriculture adjustments now minus Chester Davis are very much worried about the way the new farm program is being received. They will never admit it for a minute but various little things they have heard from the farm belt have indicated that the substitute AAA program is no where near as popular as the original.

In fact the reflective feeling within the farm belt in connection with the new deal (Democratic as well as Republican) is that the federal on agriculture may turn out to be a slight misdeal. It was dealt too fast. After the supreme court decision invalidating the old AAA the new deal farm hands and professional farm organizers rushed together and started the shuffle without counting the cards carefully.

Many a loyal Democratic farm authority will now tell you the record that President Roosevelt would have been in a better political position if he had tossed up his hands at the court decision and he had done the best he could worked out a careful plan to take into the campaign with an idea of instituting it next year.

The basic farmer displeasure with the new plan seems to be that the soil erosion excuse for benefit payments fails to measure up to the former idea of soundness. Also great administrative difficulties are anticipated. As long as the benefit payments are kept rolling in whatever guise no sizable farm revolt is expected.

Sprouting Figures

Greatest balldoo agency of the new deal has been the federal housing administration. Its recent annual report devoted three and one half pages to disclosing how it had educated the public. Any student of the fine art of promotion will find those pages indispensable to an appreciation of the subject.

But it will require a housing expert to dig out the untold promotion in the report itself. For example the report says that $17,554,864 of mortgages was accepted for insurance by FHA in 1935. It does not mention the fact that this was only 10 per cent of new mortgages made that year. In other words the private mortgage market stimulated itself nine times as much as the government stimulated it.

Worse than that a statistical beagle will find in an obscure figure listing premiums paid on insured mortgages that the FHA collected on only $95,781,976 of insured mortgages.

TWO SILICOSIS ACTIONS FILED

Bring to Five the Number of Like Court Cases; Each Asks $125,000.

Two actions were filed by Attorney Paul D. Smith and Thomas H. Sutherland in behalf of Robert J. Doherty against the Alloy Cast Iron Co. and Francis Partlow against the Marion Steam Shovel Co. The filing of the actions yesterday brings to five the number of suits brought in the last year against Marion concerns by employees. A similar case was filed some time ago by Attorney Sutherland and Sutherland against the Marion Steam Shovel Co. which was against the employee. The Marion Steam Shovel Co. is preparing an appeal to the United States supreme court. It is charged in the Doherty and Sutherland petitions, which consist of about 15 typewritten pages, that the companies were negligent in failing to furnish the employees a proper place to work and that they violated specific safety requirements of the Ohio Industrial Commission. Doherty, in his petition, says he worked for the Alloy Cast Iron Co. from February, 1929, to April, 1934, with the exception of one year beginning in April of 1931. He was a crane operator in the heavy department, he said, and he was employed in cleaning rooms in one undivided room with a foundry. Doherty gives his age as 36. Partlow says he ran a sand mixer and did other work at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. from 1931 until April 9, 1934. He is 32 years old. Both men claim they have become permanently and totally disabled since leaving the employ of the concerns. Partlow said he made application to the state industrial commission for disability compensation, but was turned down. Doherty did not make application. Silicosis is a disease said to result from the passage of heat and dust in the air into the body, causing a poisonous condition that may result in total disability and in many cases death. Attorneys said an attempt will be made to carry the silicosis suit against the Marion Steam Shovel Co. to the United States supreme court. A petition for writ of habeas corpus was filed with the chief justice of the Ohio supreme court, the petition asking for permission to plead in the highest court in the nation. The attorneys said that the Ohio workmen's compensation law does not recognize silicosis as a compensable disease and that this failure to do so violates the Ohio and United States constitution.

COCO'S LOVE LETTERS READ BEFORE JURY

Woman Suing Millionaire
Fidgets on Hearing Ardent Notes to Other Girl

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 24.—Miss Lillian Mendel, who is suing Frederic Gimbel for $2,000,000 damages for breach of promise, listened in court yesterday to his letters to another woman addressed
"Chow Chow" and signed "Coco."

She listened as Attorney George W. Whiteside read from a deposition made by the department store help in a similar suit for a similar amount filed against him by Madame Marie de Rivera, who was friendly with Gimbel from 1930 to 1932.

In May, 1931, Madame de Rivera sailed for Europe according to the deposition to marry Miss Mendel to a rich man and have Mr. Gimbel all to herself. Sending her flowers, Gimbel wrote:

"Chow-Chow, I'll never forget you. You and I are written in our blood. Coco."

At other note read
"Coco, my heart, my love, my very soul are with you on the way

age. A thousand kisses, Coco." Gimbel's deposition said he gave her $29,000 in two years.

Pituitary.

RECENTLY I TOLD you about diabetes insipidus pointing out that it is caused by a disturbance of the "pituitary gland." That disorder differs from true diabetes which is caused by some disturbance of the pancreas the sweet bread.

Since that article appeared I have had numerous requests for information about the pituitary gland. Today I will tell you a little about this structure.

The pituitary gland is a tiny organ located at the base of the brain. The gland is divided into two parts or lobes called the anterior and the posterior lobe. We have learned a good deal about this interesting gland.

The scientists have succeeded in making an extract from the posterior lobe. This substance is called "pituitrin." It is concerned with the control of many functions of the body and plays a part in regulating the blood pressure. When injected into the body, pituitrin will cause an increase in the blood pressure.

The effect of the substances secreted by the other, the anterior lobe of the pituitary gland are not so well understood. But is believed the anterior lobe has a lot to do with the growth and development of the body. If this part of the gland becomes diseased there is a serious interference with growth.
The exact effect depends upon whether the secretion is increased or decreased.

You have seen a giant in the circus. His growth to that unusual height and weight is proof that he is a victim of what is really a disease known as acromegaly or gigantism. This abnormal size is now believed to be due to an increased secretion of the anterior lobe of the pituitary gland.

The bones of the hands, feet and head become unusually large. It is not unusual in this disease to observe a large protruding jaw with a thick and conspicuous lower lip.
Sometimes there may be severe headaches, dizziness and nervous irritability.

There is another condition the exact opposite of acromegaly. Instead of growing to giant size there is a lack of growth and then we have the dwarf. In dwarfism there is a decreased secretion of the anterior lobe. In consequence the victim remains small with reduced development of the bones of the body.

The Stars Say--
For Friday, March 27

AN INTERESTING and memorable day is forecast from the prevailing astral influences. There is likely to be either a journey change or a contact with strangers which will be both advantageous and pleasant. In connection with employment there is promise of preferment, promotion or favors from superiors or those in places of authority. In private affiliations things may not be so happy as there are eigns of misunderstandings and jealousy to guard against.
Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of change or travel with new contacts and interests. This may be in connection with employment. It is a favorable time for approaching superiors or those in authority.
In private affairs beware jealousy and its unhappy consequences.
A child born on this day may have original talents and much independence but may be changeable and fond of innovation.
While favored by its employers jealousy and fickleness may mar its private life.

JESSE LIVERMORE JR.
EXONERATES MOTHERSon of Wall Street Operator Describes Party Affair as an Accident

By The Associated Press
SANTA BARBARA, Calif., March 26.—Jesse Livermore Jr., 18, son of the Wall Street operator, exonerated his mother, Mrs. Dorothea Livermore Longcope yesterday of shooting him last Thanksgiving by terming the affair an "accident."
The youth's testimony caused Justice of the Peace Ernest Wagner to dismiss charges of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder against Mrs.
Longcope.

Taking the witness stand at Mrs.
Longcope's (thrice-postponed) preliminary hearing, young Livermore said he staged a mock death scene to ride his mother for requesting him to stop drinking.

I lay on the floor enacting the death scene and pushing the .22 caliber rifle into my mother's hands," he said. "She was reluctant to take it and as I tried to force it into her possession the gun went off."

The youth left a Santa Barbara hospital last week after recovering from a serious chest wound.

SALVATION'S VALUE CALLED PRICELESS

Must Give Everything for It Revival Speaker Says

We have talked so much about salvation being free that people have the impression it is cheap. It is indeed free, but it is a price that cannot be paid in money. It is a price that cannot be paid in money.

Continuing he said: "They count it as being of no value. When the Christians begin to live as though their Christian possession were worth what it really is then in Christian people will long and seek for it too. As long as Christians are half-hearted, cold, careless and indifferent, what impression can we expect them to have on the world for Christ? Salvation is free, no millionaire has money enough to buy it and no king has influence enough to secure it. Nevertheless it costs a man all he has. Stupid things must be discarded and his old things must be left on the altar of surrender to Christ. Then and only then can we have this great possession."

NOT long ago I was like some friends I have. I was in a state of mind that I had no more to live. I was in a state of mind that I had no more to live. I was in a state of mind that I had no more to live.

The confidence mother has always had in me, which is still her stand-by when she feels run-down, convinced me to try this treatment. I started a course, the color began to come back to my skin. I felt better. I no longer tired easily and soon I felt that those red blood-cells were back to so called "normal" strength. It is great to feel strong again and like my old self.

Yes, I have come back to where I feel like myself again.

Connie Mack Learning Good Baseball Players Don't Grow On Bushes

Team Drill at Fort Myers, Fla., Convinces Him It Is Hard To Replace Stars He Sold With Rookies Out of Minor League Camps.

By The Associated Press
FORT MYERS, Fla., March 26.—Connie Mack didn't know he didn't know there existed a big shortage of good young players today; he didn't know the players with even a fair knowledge of how to throw weren't coming at every cross roads town in the big league; he didn't know that the Philadelphia fans were never seemed to give a hoot, but take the sale of his last year's stars to heart.

Connie Mack knows now. A case on the American call for him once more. Some 50 ball players, recruited everywhere, are drilling hard, making it up under the keen eye of the old master down here at Fort Myers.

Philadelphia fans are bound to be impressed with a bunch of players who will never stop and fighting to win. Eric Campbell, Rogers Cramer and John McGraw, gone from a team that had finished in the last place last year, there couldn't be left a nucleus in present from the leftovers from the member sale but the one big argument, pitching, is missing.

There are 20 hurlers in camp, but lack of pitching knowledge among the rookies made the task hard and difficult. Connie probably will depend on Bill Dietrich, Whitney Whittier, Dusty Rhodes, Charlie Gehringer and Henry Johnson. Lieber and Wilshire now have sore arms and Rhodes has a sprained ankle.

Defensively, except for pitching, and offensively, Connie should fare well. Working the infield will be Pinky Higgins, third; Hal Warshawski, second; Lemar Newman, short, and Jim O'Leary, a hard hitting rookie from Los Angeles, at first. Lou Finney may be shifted from the outfield to take over first should O'Leary flunk out. Finney, Bob Johnson, Wally Moore and George Puccinelli, 25-year-old rookie with a great punch from Baltimore, will comprise the outfield. Catching is another serious question. Connie may yet swing a deal for an experienced catcher to help out the veteran, Charlie Berry.

Minor League Head Says There Is No Decline in Baseball Interest.

By The Associated Press
ST. LOUIS, March 26.—The national pastime is holding its own. In the opinion of Judge William G. Bramham, president of the National Minor League Baseball association, there has been no decline in baseball interest in the smaller communities of the country, either on the part of spectators or of boys wishing to enter the game professionally.

Perhaps the healthiest sign about the minor league situation, Bramham said here yesterday, is the growth in the number of leagues in the lower classifications, that is class C and D, which are the kindergartens of baseball.

There are four or five class D leagues being formed now, out of the 25 or more minor circuits, all but seven are in the three lower groups, B, C and D, he said.

Last year there were 2000 players signed to first year contracts and there has been no decrease in the number of young men seeking to enter baseball this season, according to Bramham.

"Night baseball," he added, "proved the salvation of many small leagues during the depression period."

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—Jesse Owens, Ohio State university's star athlete and captain, and potential contender of America's Olympic champion, will take next week off the training to carry a health check to the West Virginia members of his race.

At Cleveland, Negro, who broke the world's records and tied another in the Big Ten meet a year ago, will be the top performer in the "Negro" health check of the schools of West Virginia.

K. Wells of the West Virginia department of education, division of Negro schools, at Charleston, W. Va., obtained Owens' speaking services.

All our children know of Owens and his accomplishments," Wells said. "They will take his word on matters, rather than the word of some educator."

Owens' literary starts at 5:30 p.m. Sunday with a talk over station WVA at Cincinnati. Six other broadcasts are on the week's program, as well as visits to 12 West Virginia cities.

Jesse will appear Saturday night at Cleveland in a special 50-yard sprint against Eulace Peacock, the future exhibition event of the Cleveland indoor high school meet. His next competition will be at the Penn relays, April 24 and 25.

COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—Cash prizes numbering 14,055 were awarded Ohio's high school basketball tournament, held in the state grounds, and Ohio State university, 1,325 less than the 1935 attendance record. H. R. Townsend, Ohio high school athletic commissioner, said the state association just about "killed" even, eliminating the possibility of bonuses for competing teams as in 1935.

Too Many Managers Claiming Pennant Before Season Opens

PIE TRAYNOR

(This is another of a series of editorials written for The Associated Press by major league managers.)

By PIE TRAYNOR
Pittsburgh Pirates
SAN ANTONIO, March 26.—I'm not predicting a National league pennant for Pittsburgh.

We won 56 ball games last year and finished in fourth place, which is quite unusual. I believe we had the best club in the league during the last five weeks of the 1935 season, outside the Cubs, perhaps, and should give them all a scrap this year.

Breaker For Traynor?

We know we have a lot of "ifs," but with the breakers, we have just as good a shot at the pennant as any other club.

Consistency will help our ball club. We had a "hot and cold" team last year. We'd win five games in a row and then drop three or four. I believe our pitching, hitting and improvement in double plays will remedy that.

It looks like Todd behind the plate. Gus Suhr at first base, "Pop" Young at second, Arky Vaughan at short and I believe my arm is improving, and will allow me to play third. Wilbur Brubaker, a good looking prospect from Kansas City, might play a lot of third base.

Paul Waner will be in right and Forrest Jensen in left. Fred Schulte, from Washington, and Daniel Husey will fight for centerfield, vacated temporarily because of Lloyd Waner's recent illness.

Besides Blanton and Swift, I'm counting on John Teling, a rookie, Mac Brown, who should be a regular, Jim Weaver, Red Lucas and Guy Bush as my best pitching material.

Having finished in fourth place last year, we're in a good spot to give somebody some trouble this year.

Cards Make A Hit With Cubans in Island Series

By The Associated Press
HAVANA — Cubans, who take their baseball as seriously as they do their "cafe con leche" (coffee with milk), think Frankie Frisch and his St. Louis Cardinals are about the finest bunch of boys in the major leagues.

Frisch's popularity was enhanced by his laudatory statements about Cuban baseball players and fans after the Cardinals played a four-game series here this month.

Frisch said he had found the Cuban ball players well schooled in both the fundamentals and fine points of the game.

"The great enthusiasm of the Cuban fans as evidenced by the enormous crowds which turned out to see our games also added to the interest of our trip," the manager said. "It was truly a pleasure to play before such large crowds that were so genuinely enthusiastic. The Cubans are great ball fans. They seemed as familiar with the performances and records of our team as the people in the United States."

Speaking of his own team, Frisch said he was "quite proud of the way our players performed in Cuba."

"True, we lost a couple of games, but they were against good teams that came through with some sensational plays. Our players were hustling every minute and the four games in Havana did them a great deal of good."

"We got some mighty fine conditioning on this trip."

The work of LeRoy Parmelee in his first competitive play with the Cardinals was particularly noteworthy. In five innings, he allowed the Cubans only three singles.

"The Havana series also indicated that the team is rapidly rounding into shape defensively. In the 37 innings we played in the four games, the Cardinals made only three errors."

By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, O., March 25.—Using his experience to offset the speed and power of his rival, Tiger Walker, 1935 Negro veteran, hammered out a ten round decision over Johnny Stevens, 121½, in a return bout last night.

Walker, who dropped a decision to Stevens here four weeks ago, was cautious at the start, but opened up from the sixth to finish to win decisively. Both are Cincinnatians.

CINCINNATI'S REDS OPEN 1936 CAMPAIGN FROM OCEAN BOTTOM

Manager Dessen Thinks His Team Will Land in Top of Second Division.

By PAUL NICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
TAMPA, Fla., March 25.—Cincinnati's Reds started their 1936 baseball campaign from the floor of the Atlantic ocean but expect to wind up atop second division, at least, in the National league hemisphere.

Manager Charlie Dessen, the type of man who insists on progress, can't miss this year. When he told his players to Puerto Rico, he let them go deep sea diving the first few days.

"With a start like that," Dessen figured, "there's only one direction to go. That's up. I'm not talking a pennant for Cincinnati this year because we probably can't overpower such clubs as the Cubs, Cardinals, Giants and Pirates but we should top the second division."

Except for catcher Einar Lonnberg and outfielder Babe Herman, the Reds can count on a single sure fire long range hitter. However, the pitching and defense should be tight.

Paul Derringer, giant right hander who won 22 and lost 13 last year for the sixth place Reds is the pitching ace of a staff that is filled with possibilities. With them are Gene Schott, winner of eight and loser of 11 in his first big league season last year; Al Hollingsworth, southpaw who displayed a world of stuff in 1935, and Lee Sline, regarded as one of the best rookie mound prospects in baseball. Sline won 16 and lost 11 with the second division St. Paul club of the American Association last year.

Jim Brennan, Leroy Hermann, Tony Phillips, Benny Frey, and Jim Barnes probably will complete the staff, giving Dessen four southpaws and five right handers.

Except for the departure of Sunny Jim Bottomley, the Reds still start out with their same 1935 pony infield with Alex Kampouris at second, Bill Myers at short and Lew Riggs at third. The battle for Bottomley's first base job is hot between George McQuinn, obtained from Wilmington, La., and Hank Erickson also the Reds, a capable catching duo.

The outfield at the start probably will be Sammy Byrd, Kiki Cuyler and Herman, who still is a holdout. Calvin Chapman, a 155 pounder, and Ival Goodman have good chances to ousting veterans like Cuyler and Herman to the bench.

Dempsey-Willard Battle Referee Is Given Purse

By The Associated Press
TOLDO, O., March 26.—A benefit fight show for Ollie Record, 69, referee of the Jess Willard-Jack Dempsey battle in 1919, drew nearly 3,000 fans last night, officials estimated today.

Record was unable to attend because of his ill health. Since 1934 he has officiated more than 800 bouts. He was a welterweight boxer in the '20's, a former baseball player, and a backer of sandlot teams.

In the first round of the Willard-Dempsey battle, Record counted Willard out after failing to hear a feble gong. It was ruled the end of the round and saved Willard.

60 BATTING FOR PINEHURST PRIZE

By The Associated Press
PINEHURST, N. C., March 26.—Sixty survivors in the $1,000 north and south open golf championship began a 36-hole whirlup today with $1,000 prize money awaiting the winner.

At the half-way mark of the 72-hole tournament, Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., was two strokes behind Ray Mangrum who shot a blazing 68 yesterday to go into first place with a total of 141.

Picard matched his first day's 71 with a 72 for a total of 143. Gene Sarazen, the Connecticut farmer, was in third place with a 74-71-145. And Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., was a stroke behind with a 75-71-146.
